THE GLENWOOD is universally recognized as one of the best and most attractive hotels in the State. It occupies an entire block of two and one-half acres, centrally located, with pleasant surroundings in the way of fruit and ornamental trees, flowers and shrubbery. EPIDEMICS OF CRIME.

It does seem as if there might be truth in the theory that the world is subject to epidemics of crime no less than of disease, and that there is a producing cause for such abnormal conditions is beyond dispute. Extravagance in living, unrestrained passions, indulgence in excesses of whatever nature, business disappointments and jealousies—all these as well as numberless other causes, tend to produce this ever-recurring epidemic of bloody tragedies, murder, suicides and outrages that every now and then breaks out, startling communities from one end of the land to the other.

Perhaps there is no more active producing cause of this evil than the haste to get rich. To this grasping and insatiable desire, when it obtains control, everything is made to yield. Whatever impedes the fulfilment of such purpose is ruthlessly assailed; nothing is sacred which interposes a barrier between the man and his desired wealth. Society has yet to learn how to control this evil. It cannot be done through any of the results arising from the unnatural conflict between labor and capital. These but increase the evil. Men have yet to more generally accept the fact that there is no natural antagonism between the rich man and the poor man. They are both necessary factors in society, mutually dependent upon each other, and the sum of human happiness and human progress rests, by no means, with those who have an abundance of this world's goods.

THE women of Ohio are moving actively in the cause of temperance, setting an example which it would be well for the women of other States to emulate. They evidently have formed the determination to put a stop to the liquor traffic in that State, and with this object in view the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Ohio has been circulating, for many weeks past, throughout the State, a petition in favor of a prohibition amendment to the constitution. They have secured the names of 70,000 voters and 90,000 women. Surely the temperance sentiment is not dead in the Buckeye State, and there is encouragement to hope that their efforts to impress upon the Legislature the importance of submitting to the people such an amendment will be crowned with success.

THE Ventura Signal claims that the seating of Brooks in the place to which Steele was elected in the State Senate was not a party measure. The claim is made principally on the ground that all the Democrats did not vote for the outrage. The Signal shows its good sense by not attempting to justify the disreputable business in the district from which Steele was elected, but it may make some of its readers believe that the small Republican minority in the Senate did the dirty job. Of course that is a very small hole to get out of, but then the Democratic party will no doubt be able to crawl through a very small hole after next election. The Brook's steal is one of those kind of things that do not promote the permanent growth of parties.

THE Citizen says "Tucson has a better Courthouse and brighter lawyers than Los Angeles." The Los Angeles bar will compare favorably with that of any on the Pacific Coast, but the Citizen puts us at a disadvantage by linking the Courthouse with the lawyers. While we might say many good words for the lawyers without departing from the truth, we would not dare tell the truth regarding the Courthouse for fear of being sued for libel. We move for a division of the question, otherwise we shall withdraw from the discussion.

THE original signification of the word candidate was "clothed in white," and the Romans soliciting high and responsible offices, arrayed themselves in loose white robes—white, in sign of fidelity and humility. But in our time the significance of the word is lost and it is as applicable with us to the low, scheming, conscienceless politician, as to the patriotic, upright and irreproachable statesman. But if the old significance were insisted upon how would the dumber of our candidates lessen.

THE Boston Traveller claims that the extreme heights to which the Western floods have attained this season, is due largely to the clearing up of the country and the cutting down of trees, thus removing former obstructions to the free passage of water, which existed in the smaller streams. The unfavorable results of these floods will be felt far beyond the area of country which was covered by them.

THE political sensitiveness of the rebel-sympathizing stamp of Democrat is perfectly marvelous. Remind him of some things for which his party is responsible—the national debt, for example, and he will bristle like a porcupine—and fling a whole dictionary of hard names at such "presumptious meanness."

PEOPLE who are laughing in their sleeves over the failure of the prophetic Wiggins to launch his big storm are a little previous. March 9 was the date promised. Give the man a chance, and, if necessary, a few days of grace; let us have the storm by all means.

AMERICAN gold brings a premium of sixteen cents on the dollar, Mexican money, in the city of Chihuahua.

SINCE so many inventions have been made, by which electricity is made to serve man, the public are prepared to believe almost any statement regarding new applications of the subtle power, or new modes of applying it. Some years ago experiments were reported in sending messages through the air and water without other conductors than the currents. It would seem that these experiments have been continued ever since, and that there is a fair prospect now of successfully transmitting dispatches without the use of wires. A dispatch from Washington, March 1st, says:

Professor Loomis, who has been experimenting for several years in the mountains of Virginia with his proposed aerial telegraphy, has returned to this city. It is said that Senator Fair has furnished him the money upon which his experiments have been conducted. His theory, in brief, is that there are electrical currents in the air, which can be reached from the top of high mountains, and that, when reached, communication can be had from one point to another without the aid of connecting wires. Professor Bell, of telephone fame, it is said, took part in some of the experiments, the results of which are said to be surprisingly successful and calculated to revolutionize the whole telegraphic system of communication. It is claimed by Professor Loomis that water can also be used by the telegraphic operator, and he will soon make the experiment of telegraphing from one side of the Atlantic to the other, using the ocean itself as a means of communication.

TO L. V. N. ON RECEIVING A BOUQUET.

Geraniums and blossoms of gold,
Alisiums dewy and sweet,
Buds that wait to unfold
All speak from your charming bouquet,
Thoughts sweeter than poets can sing,
With pleasure my spirit has caught,
The perfume-fraught tones of their speech,
For your kindness my heart has inwrought,
Its thanks with the fragrance of each.
—MRS. H. G. OTIS.

The Railway Age of Chicago publishes a summary of the railway construction in the United States for the year 1882. The summary covers only the main tracks, and shows the construction in 45 of the 47 States and territories, on 342 lines, to aggregate 11,343 miles, or about 2000 miles more than in 1881, which exceeded the construction in any previous year by 2000 miles. The construction is divided as follows: In five New England States, 538½ miles; in four Middle States, 1,315½ miles; in five Middle Western States, 2077¼ miles; in eleven Southern States, 1490½ miles; in four States in the Missouri river belt, 2063½ miles; in five States in the Kansas belt, 2157½ miles; in five States in the Colorado belt, 1165 miles, and in six States in the Pacific belt, 1020 miles.

Of Carrie Hall, (quite rich) they say,
A girl of noble carriage.
Now Ben. was smart, and off did start
To the firm of Rees & Wirsching,
And a buggy he bought, strong and neatly wrought,
So now Carrie's coin he's disbursing.
Of course the other fellow "got left," and to save him and others from a similar source of sadness, we use this vehicle to inform them that we are makers and importers of fine Buggies, Farm and Spring Wagons and farming Implements. We are proud to connect our name with the Newton Wagon, which we have so long handled here. It is made specially for this climate, and is better ironed, better painted, runs lighter, and gives better satisfaction than any wagon sold in this market. We buy for cash and in car-load lots, and can, therefore, sell as low as those dealing in inferior stock. Agents for D. M. Osborne & Co.'s Mowers and Reapers. Old wagons repaired and painted, and taken in part payment for new ones.

SAN FERNANDO.

The Old Mission—Its Neglect and Decay—Cutting the Fruit Trees for Fire Wood.

SAN FERNANDO, March 3.—To-day we made a flying visit to this quiet little burg, which is immensely quiet just now. About the only interesting feature San Fernando has for us is the quaint "Old Mission," and to this we hasten.

This, though not as old as the Mission at San Gabriel, is rapidly going to decay. Nearly ninety years ago these vast adobe walls were reared, and it is not wonderful that after they have stood the storms of so many decades they should be crumbling piecemeal. The priest's quarters is a large structure, about three hundred feet long by fifty wide, with a broad portico or porch, supported by brick pillars, and extending the whole length of the building. The rafters are rough poles, thatched over with wild cane, and over this is a roof of burnt tile. The joists are heavy beams of mountain pine, hewn square, while the ceilings are of pine boards, also hewn. The floors are paved with brick or tile, a foot square, laid diamond shape. The walls of this and all the other buildings here are of adobe and from four to six feet thick, plastered on the inside. This large building is in a fair state of preservation, and is tenanted by several Spanish families. Some carpenters (Spanish) are fitting up one end of the place for a Catholic church, and they have just placed behind the altar an image of the patron saint, San Fernando, which image is said to be two hundred years old.

In the rear of the priest's quarters is the church, but a portion of the roof has recently fallen in, and the walls are beginning to crack, so that it is not safe to occupy, except by doves or swallows. Behind the church is the cemetery with its long neglected graves, many of which are marked only with a single small stake. Some, however, are surmounted by a wooden cross bearing a Spanish inscription which we were unable to read. Just in front of the priest's quarters are the remains of what was once a beautiful fountain, where jets of sparkling water were thrown heavenward and fell again in lovely spray upon semi-tropical flowers, and where tiny gold fishes disported themselves in the bright sunbeams that penetrated their watery home. The circular basin is now used as a pig-pen.

In the rear of the church and the cemetery is a square containing about thirty acres, surrounded by a wall ten feet high and three feet thick, containing the olive orchard. The trees are more than seventy-five years old, and many of them three feet in diameter at the ground. Men are now chopping them into cordwood. They leave the stumps six or eight feet high so that the trees will sprout again and make thrifty bearing trees. A part of this inclosure was formerly a vineyard and the vines are still here but are too old to bear and are being grubbed up.

There is another olive orchard in front of the buildings which was cut down some three years ago, and which is now sending out healthy sprouts and will soon be in bearing. There are also orange trees that are too old, or too much neglected to bear; and a few ancient palm trees that seem to be struggling for existence. On one side of the olive orchard is a vast hedge of cactus of the prickly pear kind, which is ten or twelve feet high. The adobe walls are slowly crumbling down, and the building dropping to pieces by degrees. The whole place wears a look of desolation and decay. And to some it may seem curious that these grand, old structures, that cost so much toil and money to rear—these massive walls that it took years to build, and those orchards, vineyards and gardens that were a source of wealth and pleasure to hundreds, should fall into such a state of hopeless neglect. But the fact is the place was sold, or presumed to be, with a Spanish grant years ago, and has been in litigation most of the time since—hence the neglect. Recently, however, the Church has gained title to the Mission grounds, and the property hereafter will be looked after.

Well, one tires in the midst of enjoyment, and while wandering through these colossal piles of tumbled-down ruins we get weary of the solitude and wend our way to the station at San Fernando, reaching it just in time to catch the northern-bound emigrant train. Going aboard, we find two cars literally packed with "tenderfoot" Easterners, all eager to learn of this wonderful country. We are plied right and left with questions, and are about to become "confused," when to our great relief the train dashes into San Fernando tunnel, and for the next mile and a quarter we hav a rest. FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES,
LOS ANGELES, Mar. 5, 1883.

A quiet day on 'Change. There was a large number present, but no sales and but few offers and bids. Dealers continue firm in their determination to oppose the farmers' attempt to corner the grain and hay business, and they claim that in holding for high figures the farmers are liable to lose their old vantage ground in Arizona, as the grain and hay trade of Kansas and other Western States with Arizona is rapidly increasing. Wheat, flour and Bran are still held firm at current quotations. Corn—no bids on large yellow; offers unchanged; $1.40 bid for small yellow, offered at $1.42½. Offers on Barley were confined to 3 cars of No. 1 Feed Barley at $1.45, delivered, 1½c lower than offers of last Saturday, showing the tendency of the market to decline. Hay—no bids on Barley Hay, offers unchanged; Alfalfa, Wheat and Oat Hay unchanged. Alfalfa Hay sold on the street yesterday at $14 for loose, $15@16 for baled; Barley Hay at $16@17. Butter declined 2½c per roll. Cheese unchanged. Potatoes unchanged; demand good, especially for seed purposes. Alfalfa Seed—retail sales good; no large sales. Honey dull; no change in rates. Chilies unchanged. Onions fairly active. Beans—bids on Pink advanced 50c, on Bayos 75c; no butter beans in market. Raisins and dried fruit generally in good demand. Oranges and Lemons—fair inquiry reported for choice fruit; no change in quotations. Limes are very scarce and high. Apples—choice grades almost out of market. Nuts moderately active. Game—a few ducks received to-day. Poultry—geese practically out of market. Fish—none received to-day. Hides and Skins dull. Wool tolerably active.

MAGNETIC HEALING—Dr. E. Robbins, the celebrated Electric and Magnetic Healer, who lately arrived in this city, is meeting with immense success. His rooms are crowded daily with persons anxious to get the benefit of his wonderful power. Dr. Robbins discards the use of all medicines in his practice, and relies solely on the power of magnetism. He cures all kinds of diseases, such as Pains in the Back, Hips, Head or Limbs, Nervous Debility, Rheumatism, Paralysis, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Disease of Kidneys, Spinal Disease, Torpid Liver, Gout, Seminal Weakness, Asthma, Heart Disease, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Erysipelas, Indigestion, Catarrah, Dumb Ague, Fevers, Prolapsus Uteri, etc., etc. Diseases diagnosed without explanation from the patient. Office hours 9 A. M. till 9 P. M.

Marvellous cure by magnetism:—The undersigned take much pleasure in recommending to those suffering from pain or disease, Dr. E. Robbins, of 196 Main street, as a genuine Magnetic Healer. We have had experience with healers for 30 years past, and he is one of the best we have ever met. Mrs. Glover had been failing in health for six months, and on January 8th was taken worse with congestion of the lungs and a complication of diseases. We called in Dr. Robbins, and without explanation he correctly diagnosed her case, describing her symptoms; then, by laying his hands on the affected parts, instantly relieved her, and, after three weeks treatment, without medicine, she feels better than she has been for years, and we cannot give too much credit to the doctor who, by God's help, has done so much for her; and we know the power is given him to do the same for others. Come and see Mrs. Glover, at No. 29 Fort street.

Board of Trade.

A long felt want will be met in the Board of Trade, which is to be established this week. Its parent enterprise, the Produce Exchange, has grown rapidly and steadily from its incipiency, and although a valuable organization, it failed to meet the great and growing needs of our bustling, vigorous young city. Manufacturers, new branches of mercantile business, additional railroad and other shipping facilities, the practicability of reaching out for new commercial tributaries, and the best method of retaining our hold on the vast produce and fruit trade of Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, etc., these are merely an outline of the important questions which properly come within the province of a Board of Trade. They are questions of the deepest significance, on the success or failure of which depends the commercial supremacy of Los Angeles. Every intelligent citizen admits that we are sadly deficient in the number and extent of our manufacturing industries, resulting in a serious loss to our population and wealth. Citizens receive letters of inquiry daily from manufacturing establishments East seeking information regarding prospects, inducements, etc., offered in Los Angeles, and on the principle that "everybody's business is nobody's business," many of them are never answered. All hail, then, to institution, whose province shall be the careful fostering of all our interests.

THE PRODUCE EXCHANGE.

A Board of Trade to be Organized at Once.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Produce Exchange was held yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Present, Van Nuys, Germain, Lambourn, Haas and Curson. Messrs. Newmark, Gibson and Seymour were also present, as members of several committees.

E. Germain, who was appointed a committee of one to procure additional blackboards, reported that Mr. J. McLean charged $2 per yard and Mr. P. Lazarus $1.65 per yard; he had therefore ordered them from the latter. On motion the report was accepted and the committee discharged.

Messrs. Newmark, Haas and Lambourn, who were appointed a committee at the last regular meeting to draft a schedule of rates for drayage, submitted the following resolution and schedule:

WHEREAS, The practice of delivering goods at the depot of the Southern Pacific R. R. free of charge has under existing circumstances become a heavy burden to shippers; and

WHEREAS, Such burden should rightfully be borne by our customers.

THEREFORE, We, the undersigned merchants of the city of Los Angeles, agree each for himself and one with the other to charge drayage upon all goods shipped by rail and received from depot on consignment as per schedule below enumerated, and which charges shall not be refunded in the way of coin rebates, discounts, allowances or other inducements in any shape or manner whatsoever. This agreement to take effect upon due notice to us given by the Secretary of the Produce Exchange of the city of Los Angeles; that a majority of the merchants have signed this agreement.

For the faithful performance of this agreement, we pledge our word and honor as merchants and gentlemen.

Signed this the —— day of March, 1883.

Santa Monica.

The warm weather of the past week compels one to think of Santa Monica with its refreshing breezes. There is no doubt but there will be a greater exodus to that resort this season than has ever before been known, and the matter of procuring accommodations there will be a serious question. There are no vacant houses now, and when the rush begins neither love nor money will be able to procure lodging for all, unless some arrangements are made for putting up temporary accommodations for the people. The hotels, of course, will be able to feed them, but it cannot be expected that they can furnish lodging for all. Some cheap cottages erected near the beach would be a good investment and a great accommodation, and there is only time now to build them before they will be in demand.

Board of Education.

The Board met at the office of the President, all the members present.

Usual bills for supplies, etc., amounting to $322.56, were presented and ordered paid.

Action upon the proposition to call an election for the sale of the Spring and Bath streets school properties was postponed to an adjourned meeting to be held on Thursday evening next.

The rule suspending Etta Birnbaum from the schools was rescinded.

The application of John Newell to be restored to the Eighth street school was laid over to the adjourned meeting.

The question of the condition of the High School property was referred to Messrs. Kurtz, Crawford and Gibson. Adjourned.

Ducks Investigating the Light.

A flock of ducks had their curiosity excited on Saturday evening to know what the electric light on the First street mast was composed of. They investigated by flying into it, and it was not until six out of the flock had paid the penalty of their curiosity with their lives that they desisted from circling about and darting into the light. They extinguished two of the the three lights by breaking the globes and then breaking the carbons. The ducks were picked up by boys who were watching the the performance. As showing the velocity with which the ducks came in contact with the apparatus, one of them was almost cut in two and nearly all were terribly mangled.

Out and In.

Poor Fanny Smith was discharged from jail Saturday night from a sixty days' sentence, and in less than two hours thereafter was blind drunk again, and had to be confined in the locker. Now instead of making Fanny pay all the penalty, it would be much better if the monstrosities called men, who sell her the drink, should be put behind the bars instead. It was but a few short years ago that Fanny was a respectable young lady. Drink has brought her to the lowest level, and still those who have compassed her downfall ply their devilish business without let or hindrance.

Hollingsworth, the dentist, has removed his office from the City of Paris building to his new residence on New High street, opposite the Cosmopolitan Hotel, where he has perfected arrangements for prompt and thorough attention to the wants of his patrons. POLICE PICKINGS

What the Cops Have Been Doing Since Sunday Morning.

Manuel Mirando, the man who attempted to disembowel the Indian in Sonoratown Saturday night, was arrested Sunday afternoon. Mirando is a bad man. He is a partner of Moreno the horse thief who has so long eluded the grasp of the officers, and it was he who hid him and took him medicine when wounded by the police in one of the many attempts made to capture him.

John Doe and Henry Ottensluth were arrested for imbibing too much bug juice.

Ah Ling and Sam Newman were attempting to batter each other, a la Sullivan, but as usual the police interfered.

Marcus Madina, a native Californian, attempted to behead a companero Sunday night in a Sonoratown saloon. He was prevented by some fortuitous circumstance and the man still lives, but the had a close call. Madina lives up the river about 4 miles, and the police arrested him as he was going home. He put up a job but it didn't work. In the cover of darkness he crept into his wagon and laid down in the bottom. Presently an old fellow mounted the wagon and started to drive off. A police officer who was watching the wagon from a distance overhauled it, and took in his bird.

Francisco Guijado was assaulted first by Mannel Mirando, but Jose Duarto stepped in between and received the cut. Mirando, in order to scare Guijado so that he would not appear against him, swore out a warrant against him for assault with a deadly weapon.

F. M. Culp got pulled for disorderly conduct.

John Doe got biling' drunk again.

Wm. Jones and Geo. Hall were taken in for trespass in stealing oranges.

HABEAS CORPUS.

A Writ Issued Out of the Supreme Court For Lew Houck.

A writ of habeas corpus was yesterday served upon Sheriff Currier, issued out of the Supreme Court, and signed by Judge Sharpstein, ordering Sheriff Currier to produce the body of Lew Houck alias Doc. Davis, the murderer and boss gambler, in the Supreme Court of San Francisco, Department 8, forthwith. Preparations were in progress at the Sheriff's office for Houck's removal yesterday afternoon and a formidable guard was expecting to accompany him, but for some reason, probably on account of the postponement of the case, he was not taken last evening. Houck's arrest is a most important one, and the railroad companies have taken a special interest in it, on account of the murder having been committed by Houck while a passenger on a train of the Columbus, Hocking Valley and Toledo Road in the State of Ohio, and all railroads have since furnished every facility in their power for his capture. Mr. Norris, the detective, who has at last the good fortune to get hold of him, has followed him five years, off and on, as he would get a clue to his whereabouts. Norris is a determined fellow, and justly feels proud of his capture, and now that the game is bagged he doesn't wish to lose it by any misstep. He says that a number of jobs have been put up on him, the last of which was to get him into a den through the influence of women. A well-known man of this city in certain circles, asked him the other evening in a very confidential way, to accompany him in a call he proposed to make upon two ladies whose husbands were in Arizona, and he would be perfectly safe from interruption during the call. Mr. Norris informed him that he did not visit strange garrets or call on other men's wives during their absence, and bade his "friend" good night. He did not get the opportunity to play injured husband on the detective. There have been all sorts of threats made in regard to the prisoner's being taken away, and Sheriff Currier, in whose charge the prisoner still is, will see to it that proper precautions are taken to secure him in the removal. The friends of Houck are the gamblers, Houck having the reputation of being the most expert gambler in the United States, and as there is a kind of freemasonry among the fraternity the gentry stand by the man notwithstanding his undoubted guilt.

The Land Sale.

The auction sale of lots in the Beaudry tract on the hills west of the city took place yesterday beginning about 11 o'clock. Mr. J. C Bell, the auctioneer showed himself master of his business, and a thorough adept at talking money out of people's pockets. He prefaced he sale by a bit of the history of the town and what had been done within a few years and argued from what had been done that there would be still greater things done in the next few years to come. The sale was well attended throughout, and at noon a sumptuous lunch was set out, and all enjoyed the picnic. There were thirty eight lots sold, aggregating about $9000, Following is a list of the sales with the amount paid and name of purchaser:

Couldn't Stand a Drunken Woman.

There was a happy family in jail last night. Special officer Ed. Smith picked up a drunken woman on the street, who gave her name as Miss Lucy. She was put into the cell with Fanny Smith. Fanny had been up before Justice Morgan, and he could not find it in his heart to again consign her to jail, and dismissed her. She was out long enough to get bilin' full, and when the strauge woman was put in her cell she resented it. She stay in a cell with a drunken woman? No, sir; and she proceeded to hammer and kick the door at a tremendous rate, yelling and howling till she could be heard a block away. Once in a while the duet came in, and the effect was for all the world like the concatenations of a conclave of courting cats in a back alley.
